WHAT IS THE

Key

TO YOUR MOTIVATION?

NEVER LET THE FEAR OF FAILURE PREVENT YOU FROM

Achieving your Goals.

Scott Prior couldn't agree more.

Fear is a powerful thing. It can scare us into not doing anything, or it motivates us to give our all in order to ensure success. When Scott Prior was a young man, the fear of failure was the prime motivator that inspired him to devote himself wholeheartedly to anything he pursues. He learned the value of a hard day's work at a young age and all these years later, his approach has never wavered. From giving his all to youth hockey to working his way up the ranks as a volunteer firefighter with the Milton Fire Department to his long-running real estate career, dedication and hard work have always been Scott's keys to success.

A Track Record of Excellence

Early in life, Scott's strong work ethic allowed him to earn the kind of wages that afforded him some minor luxuries, especially at just 20 years of age. He drove a sports car and owned a boat, but he knew that he hadn't yet found his true calling. Then one day, he met a Realtor® who inspired him to pursue a career in real estate. The early days weren't easy – he even sold his car and his boat to fund his new venture. But like anything he does, he gave his all and made the sacrifices required to ensure he was successful. More than 30 years later, Scott possesses an impeccable track record and a level of insight into Milton real estate that is nearly impossible to exceed.

Nothing But the Best

When you work with Scott toward the purchase or sale of a home, you obviously benefit from more than three decades of experience and insight into this fast-growing market. But Scott doesn't stop there. True to his nature, he strives to provide his clients with the "best of the best" in anything he does – professional photography of his listings, top-notch marketing strategies to ensure maximum exposure for your home, and the personal attention that has become Scott's trademark. A true innovator, he saw the need for a "team-based" approach to real estate and assembled The Prior Team. This group of specialized professionals ensure that no detail is overlooked and handle each stage of your important transaction, providing you with an experience that is second-to-none. Between Scott and his team of experts, you're sure to receive the utmost in care and attention.

“Working with my team to help people make the most of something as important as buying or selling a home is extremely motivating to me. It inspires me to give my all every day.”
